Martial art means concentration on the essential. Therefore our fighting rules for players over 30 follow the maxim "less is more": Every hit counts - not condition and heaping up points are important, but concentration and determination.

Procedure over 30, 40, 50, 60 competition:

- Points: A hit to the body counts one point, a hit to the head two points.
- Procedure:
 - A fight consists regularly of three rounds of 1,5 minutes with 0,5 minutes break in between.
 - The aim of the players is to win individual rounds. If a player succeeded in winning two rounds, he is the winner of the fight.
 - To win a round, a player has to make two points – after one player reached two points, the round ends.
 - If a player wins the first and second round he is the winner of the fight.
 - If the first and second rounds end with tie scores, the player who wins the third round is the winner of the fight.
 - If all three rounds end with tie scores, the player who made the first point is the winner.
 - If all three rounds end 0:0 the center referee decides who is the winner.
 - If the second OR the third round end with a tie score, the other rounds (1 and 3 OR 1 and 2) are decided, so either the player who won two rounds is the winner OR (if each player won one round) the player who won the first round.
 - If the first round ends in a tie score, the player who wins the second round automatically is the winner of the fight, the fight ends after round 2. (The fighter could either win a second time or he could lose the third round but would still be the winner, as he won the first of the two decided rounds.) -In the Masters' Categories (only here!) there will be full repechage – the competitors who lose to the pool winner drop into the repechage bracket.
